

Dr Ezekiel Mecha

Biodata:

Dr Ezekiel Mecha is a lecturer, at the Department of Biochemistry, University of Nairobi and a DAAD alumni having obtained a PhD scholarship to pursue his doctorate in Germany. He obtained his PhD from the University of Giessen, Germany in 2014 and did his post-Doc from the University of Giessen in 2018. He is a member of World Endometriosis Society mentoring programme and is currently spearheading a multi-sectoral and multi-professional approach in management of endometriosis through involvement of all stakeholders involved in endometriosis management with an ultimate goal of establishing endometriosis government policy document. In addition, he is the chairman of Kenya DAAD Scholars Association, University of Nairobi, Chapter and a DIES (Dialogue of Innovation for Higher Education Systems) Alumni. Having attended a course on management of internationalization at Hannover, Germany and JKUAT He is a certified global consultant/mentor by International Federation of Biosafety Association (IFBA)

Dr Ezekiel Mecha has published more than 20 publications in internationally renowned peer reviewed journals and initiated a number of International and local collaborations and currently he has PhD students doing their endometriosis research in the University of Giessen, Germany. He has been awarded a number of grants including DAAD alumni event grants, WHO MIM grants, NRF, World bank etc.

Research Interests:

- Identification of earlier diagnostic markers for endometriosis and cancer using OMICs approach
- Endometriosis awareness campaigns in East African region through media and print platforms